Module Name: Tax Law
Module Code	w.BA.XX.2SteuR-BL.XX
Module Description	Students gain an overview of the Swiss system of taxation law and its legal foundations. They recognize the commercial points of contact and implications of taxation and are able to deduce the basic principles of taxation law. They transfer these to specific issues and analyze the legal consequences. Students differentiate between the various categories of taxation for forms of commercial activity and gain an overview of their obvious taxation similarities/differences. They analyze the interrelationships between taxation consequences and specific commercial decision-making problems (e.g., choice of legal entity) and recognize the problems of double taxation for business owners and shareholders of incorporated enterprises.
